

Spelling, Punctuation and Grammar

1. Use a conjunction to complete the sentence below.

Mrs Cruikshank said that her class will be in detention after school each day _____ she discovers what happened to her trophy.

2. Rewrite the sentence below so that it is punctuated correctly.

Show me your hands worm! demanded Mrs Cruikshank.

3. The sentence below needs two apostrophes. Insert them in the correct places.

The boys hands were muddy at morning break and theyve stayed muddy since then.

4. Replace the underlined words, in the sentence below, with a pronoun. Write your answer in the box.

The boy had muddy feet and the boy's hands were covered in mud.

5. Add a fronted adverbial to the start of the sentence below to give more information about when it was happening.

_____, William explained why James must be innocent.